

CYCLOPEAN

Cyclopean are as stubborn as their cyclops ancestors. Just as hungry too. I'd keep my eye on them around your livestock.

-Corvair, Guide to the Kovian Sea

ISLAND DWELLERS

On the islands of the Kovian Sea lie the cyclopean race. They are as dangerous as they are helpful. Seeming to act on a whim. This wayward attitude is luckily balanced by a code of honor that all who sail the Kovian Sea seem to follow. Standing tall with one enormous eye they tower over most.

SOLITARY SHEPHERDS

Cyclopean are rather peaceful despite what their appearance may lead some to believe. They spend most of their lives alone on an island that they have claimed as their home. They spend their time on this island shepherding livestock. They are excellent at dealing with animals thanks to their gentle giant disposition. Due to their chosen isolation, they are loathe to deal with others.

CYCLOPEAN NAMES

Their names are extremely varied from the years of living with other races and sailors of the Kovian Sea who visit them.

Male Names: Polyphemus, Brontes, Steropes, Blevog, Nektaros, Pantelis

Female Names: Hesiod, Roduka, Namina, Theodosia, Aegni, Kybele
